

Without a thought
you hand me a second jar

Without a thought
I open it and you smile in profile of this intimacy

like a bride

I wish I could tell you

like a groom

that we are those jars
my sweet sweet love

secret delights
that can't speak or touch in plain sight

or be open
without a thought